REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

- The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The present invention is directed towards a method and system for performing red eye correction in an image. The closest prior art, Acker et al. (USPN 6,009,209), shows a similar system, in which, for automatically editing a digital color image to remove discoloration of the image, known as a red eye effect, by parsing the discoloration into regions and re-coloring the area of the discoloration based on the attributes of the discoloration, wherein the editing process according to the invention automatically creates a bitmap that is a correction image, which is composited with the source image or a copy of it and displayed as the source image with the red eye effect corrected. However, Acker et al. fail to address: "for wherein having a high resolution image and transmitting a low resolution image derived from the high resolution image, while displaying the low resolution image on a display device and receiving from a user an indication of a selected location within the displayed low resolution image and partially automatically defining an outline of an area in the low resolution image within which area red eye correction is to be carried out and automatically repositioning an area by moving the area to a location in the image at which a number of pixels satisfying a redness criterion on a periphery of the area is most". These distinct features have been added separately to different independent claims and render them allowable.

- Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
